

"Records of the Orthodox Congregational Church, Organized June 2nd, 1835, and from that date Copied from the Original Minutes until Jany 1st 1864; and thence continued."

1 vol.            28 cm.

Manuscript record book of the "white church" in Deerfield, Massachusetts, now owned by Historic Deerfield and known as the Deerfield Community Center. Records were copied into this volume in 1864 from an earlier book, and continued from that time. Contents include articles of faith, bylaws, covenant, lists of ministers and members, minutes of meetings, baptisms, and some correspondence laid in or tipped in. Records continued until Feb. 1967, and encompass 640 pages.

Donated to PVMA in 1986 by Viola Wilby.
