

Allen, Carlos (1892-1971)

Diary, Jan. 1-Sept. 24, 1905. Deerfield, MA.

1 vol. manuscript 15 cm

Note: Carlos was the son of Caleb Allen (1861-1927). The diary records the activities of a young boy – skating, sledding, snowshoeing, swimming, baseball, and tennis. He attended school but had trouble with arithmetic. He read “Uncle Tom’s Cabin” and suffered many toothaches. He was very interested in local high school baseball games. He passed all his exams for high school, except for geography. He occasionally helped his father with driving the milk cart.

The volume is an Excelsior Diary.
