

Hoyt, Jonathan (1728-1813)

Diary, 1800-1806; 1810. Deerfield (Cheapside), Mass., 1800-1810.

Mss. 1 vol.

Hoyt, son of Jonathan and Mary Field Hoyt, was a Tory, and moved to the Cheapside section of Deerfield about 1775, where he built a large house which he named the "White Horse Tavern." In 1751 he married Experience Childs; they had ten children.

The journal covers weather, local travels, daily happenings, and farming.

Sheldon II:215

Microfilmed, 8th on reel. M 920.0744 D312 1

Shelved in Diary Collection